Kate Lake-artist, writer, gearhead-understands the romance of cars. In an extraordinarily varied life, she's owned, driven, repaired, coveted, and written about many of the most famous (and the most infamous) cars of our time. Here, in an illustrated memoir, she presents the cars-and the story-of her life, in loving and faithful detail: from her first memory of her parents' big gray Plymouth sitting in the driveway to the '57 Cadillac convertible her father drove after the divorce to the Chevy Nomad in which she lost her virginity to the 1948 Indian Chief motorcycle that she lusted over but never got to drive to the Dodge Dart her brother was tinkering with the

She tells us about the divergent roads on which she's traveled, how she moved from place to place, romance to romance, until finding herself happily behind the wheel of a 2001 Audi Quattro TT, crusing her way through midlife. With the wit and resourcefulness of a woman who knows her way around love and transmissions, Kate Lake has found the perfect vehicle for recounting the story of her life and for reminding us about our own love affair with cars.
