

Beauty And The Beast Medley For Violin Piano Arranged By Lindsey Stirling

(Piano Solo Songbook). This creative collection arranged by "Backwards Piano Man" Jason Lyle Black features ten medleys of songs from timeless Disney films for piano solo. 35 songs are included in all from the movies Aladdin, Beauty and the Beast, Cinderella, Hercules, The Jungle Book, The Lion King, The Little Mermaid, Mary Poppins, Moana and Mulan . Includes arranger notes from Black.

Beauty and the Beast begins with the question: Is beauty destined to end in tragedy? Drawing on extensive fieldwork in Colombia, Michael Taussig scrutinizes the anxious, audacious, and sometimes destructive attempts people make to transform their bodies through cosmetic surgery and liposuction. He balances an examination of surgeries meant to enhance an individual's beauty with an often overlooked counterpart, surgeries performed—often on high profile criminals—to disguise one's identity. Situating this globally shared phenomenon within the economic, cultural, and political history of Colombia, Taussig links the country's long civil war and its bodily mutilation and torture to the beauty industry at large, sketching Colombia as a country whose high aesthetic stakes make it a stage where some of the most important and problematic ideas about the body are played out. Central to Taussig's examination is George Bataille's notion of depense, or "wasting." While depense is often used as a critique, Taussig also looks at the exuberance such squandering creates and its position as a driving economic force. Depense, he argues, is precisely what these procedures are all about, and the beast on the other side of beauty should not be dismissed as simple recompense. At once theoretical and colloquial, public and intimate, Beauty and the Beast is a true-to-place ethnography—written in Taussig's trademark voice—that tells a thickly layered but always accessible story about the lengths to which people will go to be physically remade.

Piano solo by Dennis Alexander correlated to Alfred Level 4.

With language that is both lyrical and distinctly her own, Francesca Lia Block turns nine fairy tales inside out. Escaping the poisoned apple, Snow frees herself from possession to find the truth of love in an unexpected place. A club girl from L.A., awakening from a long sleep to the memories of her past, finally finds release from its curse. And Beauty learns that Beasts can understand more than men. Within these singular, timeless landscapes, the brutal and the magical collide, and the heroine triumphs because of the strength she finds in a pen, a paintbrush, a lover, a friend, a mother, and finally, in herself.

Greg Anderson and Elizabeth Joy Roe are perhaps the most thrilling young duo performing today, offering adrenalized classical concerts that are revolutionizing the piano duo experience for the 21st century. Described as "Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers transposed from the dance floor to the keyboard" (The Southampton Press) and "the intense synchronization of genius" (ThirdCoast Digest), Greg and Liz bring their joyous camaraderie and refined artistry to the concert stage, dazzling audiences around the world as a four-hand and two-piano team. The Anderson & Roe Duos & Duets series features inspiring arrangements as performed by the duo---from settings of treasured opera melodies to medleys of popular movie music. The pieces are edited with fingering and other directions that facilitate rehearsal and performance, making them accessible for advancing students as well as for concert performers. Three Waltzes for Two Pianos: A Medley of Waltzes Made Famous in Disney Films artfully combines "Chim Chim Cher-ee," "Someday My Prince Will Come," and "Gaston" into a virtuoso concert piece, which culminates in a showstopping finale that superimposes the three melodies on top of each other. Extended piano playing techniques, such as strumming the strings inside of the piano and playing clusters of notes with the fist, as well as bravura passages encompassing the full range of both pianos make this one of Anderson & Roe's most exciting arrangements. Two copies required.

Learning about personal finance and related topics becomes an enjoyable experience. These fables are short enough to read over a cup of coffee or for a quick bedtime story. Storytelling is an age-old method of transferring wisdom from one person to another in a relatable way, one that allows the listener or reader to arrive at conclusions that fit their own life. And they're fun. There is absolutely no reason why planning for your future—and implementing that plan—should not be as fun as reading a story and learning from its moral. Christine Cargnoni and Renee Porter-Medley's Financial Fables™ return to the stories of childhood—but with a spin that re-enforces the lessons we learned long ago, but with a grown-up twist. The fables include “Lezza's Beauty and Her Beast: Understanding Your Financial Temperament Will Help You Transform,” to “Jack and the Beans: Invest With Others, and for Yourself, With a Plan,” and “Sleeping Beauty Wakes Up: Life Happens; Don't Give Up When Your Plan Does Not Work Out. Get Help.” In each story the authors encourage you to do the things you need to do to succeed. Whether you read them all at once or just one story per day, per week, or per month, you can take control of your finances regardless of how limited your time is. Cargnoni and Porter-Medley present easy to follow tips and resources to help you create your own happily ever after. Unlike financial books that often become too technical too fast, Financial Fables: Seven Tales to Transform Your Financial Life and More delivers a simple moral: knowledge applied transforms. Once upon a dime, in a financial tale from not so long ago...Feeling the weight of the world on her shoulders after yet another exhausting twelve-hour shift at her job, Diva dragged herself home. Looking down the dimly lit hall to her small apartment, she discovered a scrawny cat spread out flat on her door mat. The dirty, dark cat, with littlewhite feet, had definitely been challenged in more than one fight and small tears in his ears indicated that he'd not come out on the better end of them. Diva looked down at the pitiful creature. Seriously cat! She thought, I am really too tired to deal with you.She was already stressed, knowing her parents apparently did not approve of her independent life as a single, thirty five-year-old woman. They refused to offer her financial help, yet they extended funds to her eldest brother, who was married with an adoring family, and to her younger sister, who still lived with them. Not that Diva begrudged her siblings; she didn't, but being judged for who she was—or who she was trying to be—bothered her a lot. In fact, the beaten-down cat on her doorstep looked like how she felt.“Little cat, you and I are two of a kind,” she told the kitty and no one else.Since Diva's good heart refused to let her turn away the white-footed black feline, she reluctantly opened the door. The cat sprang to life, mustering just enough energy toscamper inside and once again lie down. Diva named him Bootsy from Puss in Boots, because he reminded her of the fairy tale. “Maybe you can help me break this continuous spell of bad luck, little Bootsy,” she said. That night, as Diva checked her e-mail, Bootsy settled right between the keyboard and the monitor. “OK! Another critic,” Diva said. But Bootsy just looked at her through the slits of his eyes, turned his head, and fell back asleep.That is just the beginning of the story—and wouldn't you like to know the rest? Well, wouldn't you? Of course you would! Not only would you like to know what happens next, you especially want to know how this story will relate to your finances. The truth is stories capture our attention in ways that no other form of communication can.
