Selling on eBay seems simple enough You post a few items for sale, wait for the bids to start rolling in, collect the cash, and mail out the items you sold. Sounds easy enough, doesn't it? Unfortunately, things get a bit more complicated when you start eBaying in real life. Writing good listings that make buyers want to pull the trigger on your items isn't easy. Taking good pictures that show your items in the best light can be harder than you think. Pricing your item to sell can seem a bit like rolling the dice. Selling on eBay is serious business. If you want to be successful, you need a plan going into each and every listing. You need to research every item before you list it for sale. You need to know what it costs to sell each item, and how you're going to ship it. And finally, you need to understand which listing format is right for each item you list. That's what List, Sell, Profit is all about. It puts the easy back into eBay by giving you the help and advice you need to get over the speed bumps that can block your

Roseanne sold her soul to the devil in order to become famous--and now she wants it back. As controversial, original, and funny as ever, Roseanne returns to the page, honing her razor sharp observations on hypocrisy, hubris, tackling menopause, pharmaceuticals, and her grandkids, too. Bold, brash, and insightful, Roseanne discusses the humour of her everyday life alongside more serious topics as class warfare, feminism, the cult of celebrity, and Kabbalah. --On Angelina Jolie and Brad Pitt: "They make about $40 million a year in violent, psychopathic movies and give away three of it to starving children, trying to look as if they give a crap about humanity." --On depression meds: "Did you ever think maybe we're supposed to be depressed? The economy is in the crapper, there's a never ending war, our kids are ungrateful little bastards ... half the world is starving and the other half is trying to lose weight! Maybe we should be depressed."
