Watching the kite ascend higher into the sky, ten-year-old Raghav felt butterflies run deep down his gut, inflating his desire to fly high in a supersonic jet. His kite, entangled with another, crashed onto the ground. The flight took off smoothly from the runway of her heart, only to be hit by turbulence and thunderstorms smashing the plane into an abandoned sea full of gloominess. There he saw a lighthouse, a ray of hope. She became his lifeguard and taught him to swim through the storm. Like a guiding angel, she enlightened him towards the path of self-discovery leading to his journey to the island called 'Bollywood.' Raghav rode on a roller coaster encompassing love, passion, and conflicts. Hopping from one town to another in search of his purpose, he landed in the city of love and lights, Paris, where he saw the horizon, an illusion of his world merging with hers. But just like the two poles on Earth never meet, so was his destiny. On one side, he had Diya whom he could never get, and on the other side was Niharika whom he could never lose, and in the midst of all the chaos, he found his treasure. Come along with him to discover his hidden treasure. Who knows! You might find yours too.

This book is written primarily for the family to help solve the meat problem and to augment the food supply. Producing and preserving meats for family meals are sound practices for farm families and some city folks as well—they make possible a wider variety of meats, which can be of the best quality, at less cost. Meat is an essential part of the American diet. It is also an expensive food. With the costs high, many persons cannot afford to buy the better cuts; others are being forced to restrict the meat portion of the diet to a minimum, or to use ineffectual substitutes. Commercially in the United States, meat means the flesh of cattle, hogs, and sheep, except where used with a qualifying word such as reindeer meat, crab meat, whale meat, and so on. Meat in this book is used in a broader sense, although not quite so general as to comprise anything and everything eaten for nourishment either by man or beast. To be sure, it includes the flesh of domestic animals and large and small game animals as well; also poultry, domestic fowl raised for their meat and eggs, and game birds, all wild upland birds, shore birds, and waterfowl; and fish.

This book was written to try to show the evolution of methods of teaching autistic children. When we lived in Michigan in 1971, the special education teachers were aware of autism and already had programs for their special needs. When we moved to California, we found the special education teachers well-equipped to teach trainable mentally retarded children, but woefully unprepared for autistic ones. These teachers and aides became remarkable and heroic advocates for autistic children.
