A fascinating story of love and campaigning for equality and social justice. When Katherine Zappone and Ann Louise Gilligan met it was love. It has been love through twenty-seven years together. But that love had consequences which brought this couple to the High Court, and beyond. They met at Boston College. Returning to Ireland, their relationship had to be kept secret. Jobs were at stake, and elevation to positions of authority could be jeopardised. What would happen if one of them died? Only a married couple received the support of the state in such circumstances. Ireland rejected their Canadian marriage and they had to make a huge decision: to go public and fight or to stay quiet and suffer the consequences? Here they offer their deeply personal story – out loud for all to read. Foreword by Archbishop Desmond Tutu

Where Rory Crean's How to Exceed Your Expectations in the Leaving Cert is different from other study guides is that its ideas have been tested and refined through the eyes of someone who sat his exams just one year ago.

Rory got straight As. In How to Exceed Your Expectations in the Leaving Cert Rory shares his detailed, structured and fail-safe blueprint to help students at every level get through that final crucial year of school. He does not come up with a rigid formula but instead a detailed set of guidelines that will allow each student to develop his or her customized approach.

There is no getting away from it: the leaving cert is a challenge. But by adopting Rory Crean's strategies, students will be rewarded with peace of mind, exam results that will exceed their current expectations, and self-management techniques that will be invaluable for the rest of their lives.

to the Leaving Certificate Higher Exam Paper Questions for the last four years (2018, 2017, 2016 and 2015). The 2014, 2013 and 2012 solutions are also available to download and view on any device and can be added to your cart at checkout later if you wish. The unique handwritten solutions are easy to understand for the weaker student but will also provide the high flyer with the skills to hit the "H1" grade. There is one hundred and forty four pages of the best notes in each book making it a competitive production at this price point. Each book contains the most detailed solutions of any Maths book on the market in Ireland and sets out every single line of the solution (step by step) with notes explaining the Maths behind them. The solutions encompass all topics on the course including Algebra, Calculus, Financial Maths, Complex Numbers, Geometry, Probability, Statistics, Trigonometry etc.. They also give an insight into the marking scheme of each paper. Students who regularly use these books negate the need to spend hundreds of Euro's on tuition, as many parents have commented to me over the years. Students can easily follow the stepped solutions on their own and subsequently learn how to apply it to a similar styled exam question later. The most efficient way for a student to use the book is to try each question part for themselves first and then subsequently refer to my solution to see where they have gone right or wrong; hence the student is always 'learning by doing'. From Testing to Assessment: English as an International Language provides a critical review of conventional and alternative approaches to the assessment of English literacy skills in various parts of the world. It presents empirical studies conducted in three major settings: in countries such as Japan and Brazil where English functions as the language of international commerce; in multilingual countries such as Nigeria and Zimbabwe where English is the national language of education and government; and in such countries as Canada, the United Kingdom and the United States where English is the dominant language. The book opens with a discussion of language assessment in relation to debates about the nature of literacy; it concludes with a discussion of policy implications, which is grounded in literacy theory as well as in practical constraints such as available human and material resources.

In this charming offering from internationally bestselling author Patricia Scanlan, the ties of family are tested when siblings reunite to celebrate their sister's new interior design business. Will family and friends help Cassie Jordan follow her dreams—or hinder her? Meet Cassie Jordan as she launches the dream venture she has fought so hard to create: her own interior design business, named Finishing Touches. The party promises to be a night to remember; will Cassie's long-estranged sister, Barbara, bury her resentment and toast Cassie's success? Will their younger sister, Irene, travel all the way from the States for the big night? And will brother Mark ignore his wife's pettiness and support his sister when she needs him? What Cassie does know for certain is that her two oldest and best friends, Laura and Aileen, will be there by her side, supporting each other as they have done since their school days. Finishing Touches is an engrossing novel of schoolmates and soulmates, shared secrets, and desires—and how one woman dares to make her dreams come true.

In a context of widespread expansion of education and care provision for young children, the staffing of early childhood services in Europe is a critical quality issue.

However, systematically assembled data across countries on the education/training and structure of the early years workforce are limited. Who works in education and care settings for young children? What professional studies are required? How similar or how varied are the qualification profiles and fields of work? This book provides answers to these questions. With funding from the German Federal Ministry for Family Affairs, Senior Citizens, Women and Youth, the SEEPRO project based at the State Institute of Early Childhood Research (IFP) in Munich/Bavaria worked closely with country experts to develop the 27 country profiles. In addition, cross-national perspectives and key workforce issues are highlighted which will be of interest for those engaged in early years professional education/training as well as for researchers, practitioners and policy makers.

A hilarious childhood memoir from one of Ireland's funniest comedians. "Mrs Byrne, you've a beautiful, very pale, ginger-haired baby boy with a wonky eye." As she was handed me by the midwife, my mother wept for all the wrong reasons. She could have shagged a platypus and I still would have come out better than this.' So begins Jason Byrne's Adventures of a Wonky-Eyed Boy, a laugh-out-loud memoir that captures the childhood adventures of an accident-prone youngster in 1970s and 1980s suburban Dublin. It was a time when your brother persuaded you to eat the grease behind the cooker by telling you it was caramel, your house was blown up by lightning, your dad mixed up the toothpaste and the 'arse-cream', and you fell asleep on Sunday nights to the sound of one of the neighbours - who were all named Paddy - drunkenly singing 'Magic Moments' in the good front room. All of this while trying to stop your wonky eye from giving the game away. Jason Byrne's childhood adventures are nostalgic, heart-warming and, above all, hilarious. Includes various departmental reports and reports of commissions. Cf. Gregory. Serial publications of foreign governments, 1815-1931.

In 2008, Simon Fitzmaurice was diagnosed with Motor Neurone Disease (mnd). He was given four years to live. In 2010, in a state of lung-function collapse, Simon knew with crystal clarity that now was not his time to die. Against all prevailing medical opinion, he chose to ventilate in order to stay alive. Here, the young filmmaker, a husband and father of five small children draws us deeply into his inner world. Told in simply expressed and beautifully stark prose - in the vein of such memoirs as Jean-Dominique Bauby's The Diving Bell and the Butterfly - the result is an astonishing journey into a life which, though brutally compromised, is lived more fully and
