

Little Quacks Hide And Seek

When Mama plays hide and seek with her five ducklings, Little Quack finds the best hiding place of all. Readers can use the quack-u-lator to count the ducklings as they hide. When a little green frog hops into Little Quack's pond - the other ducklings are not at all sure if they should make friends with him - after all he sounds funny, he's green and he's not at all fluffy. But Little Quack wants to be frog's friend and soon persuades his brothers and sisters that hopping, splashing and jumping are all fun things to do - so Little Ribbit is soon very at home in his new pond.

Boys and girls dress in different masks to see what they would like to be for Halloween.

In the morning, dragons wake up, tumble out of bed, and get ready to fly into the sky.

An assortment of animals gathers for a picnic.

It's time for Little Quack and his siblings to go to sleep... But there's something glowing in the dark, something hooting in the trees above, and something rustling in the reeds.

There's just too much excitement for the ducklings to settle down! But when the stars begin to shine it just might be time for bed, at last.

Mr. and Mrs. Mallard proudly return to their home in the Boston Public Garden with their eight offspring.
