MY STORY ON ONLINE DATING APPS

The book profiles my time as an over-40s man engaged with online dating apps, during which period I was stood up, ghosted, verbally abused, propositioned for sex and asked to be a surrogate father to an unborn child. The lessons I learned have been encapsulated in this book for the benefit of men and women engaged with online dating sites and apps such as ‘Tinder’, ‘Bumble’, ‘Hinge’ and others, and who wish to avoid the first date mistakes that I made. STATE OF INTERNET DATE My book also provides an overview of Internet dating’s major issues, including;

- Why you have a less than 20 per cent chance of finding love online.
- Why black women who seek love should never use ‘Tinder’.
- Why all online dating apps should carry a government health warning.
- Why Internet dating apps would prefer that you don’t find love.

From the creator of the viral Instagram account comes an empowering guide to navigating the hazards and horrors of online dating. After one too many hostile dating app encounters, Alexandra Tweten set up the Instagram account @ByeFelipe, a place for women to protest the horrors of online dating, and to share stories and screenshots of their own experiences. Three years later, the account has become a forum where women can fight back against the men who have made them uncomfortable, scared, and embarrassed--and to laugh at the appalling men they encounter. The name of Bye Felipe is a nod to the "Bye Felicia" meme, which Urban Dictionary defines as a cool dismissal of a noxious person. In that spirit, the book helps women navigate the perils that come with swiping right and provides practical steps to overcome the harassment rampant in the dating app ether. Blending humor, feminist theory, and solidarity, this "field guide" provides profiles of the worst types of guys (also known as "Felipes")--from the classic fat shamer to the mansplainer to the surprise sociopath--answers questions like "How do I react when a guy sends me a dic pic?," and gives women the tools they need to take control of their dating life. With stories, screenshots, and Riot Grrrl-esque graphic art throughout, Bye Felipe empowers women to stand up for themselves and uphold the confidence and self-worth Felipes try so desperately to steal.

No matter what your age, height, weight or physical appearance, there are thousands of women out there eager to meet you and eager for your company...whether short-term or long-term relationships are what you want. If you have found yourself suddenly "on-the-market" again after a relationship has dissolved or are just too busy with your work to spend a lot of time looking for a lady to keep you company, online dating can open the door to the dating scene for you. The good news is that all you need is a computer and an internet connection to get started. The first thing to do is find an online dating site that fits your needs. There are the large sites that offer many extras like live video chat and even match you up with ladies using your profiles and, also, a lot of sites that cater to special interests like religious preferences, outdoor enthusiasts, gays, etc. You need to choose one or two that will meet your needs. I don't recommend the free sites. The paid sites have a money back guarantee if you aren't satisfied and the investment is small. A whole month costs less than one dinner and movie date. The next thing you need to do is write a killer, but honest, profile and upload a recent but flattering picture of yourself. Now you are all set. Start contacting ladies whose profiles sound interesting to you and answer any lady who contacts you...and do so promptly...not, however, on holidays or weekends.
