A guided journal containing 365 prompts covering the most important areas of life. Monthly topics include identity, relationships, money, career, the future, and much more.

Our goal is to help you get to the marrow of your life through the habit of journaling. Yes, you will enjoy many other benefits from journaling as we explore later on. But as we view it, journaling is an essential part of knowing yourself and continuing your growth as a person. It unlocks a part of you that can't be unlocked any other way.

While there is no ONE right way to journal, many struggle with what to write. The blank page paralyzes their minds. This book helps reticent journalers discover writing prompts for themselves. All that's required is a willingness to open your eyes and look at the space around you. Let go of the idea that prompts demand the "right" answer. The sole purpose of a prompt is to inspire thought. Prompts never dictate a response. The short chapters serve to inspire the writer rather than offer a specific guided practice. The alphabetical structure of the book serves as a quick and creative mnemonic device for those times you want to write but don't know where to start. Select the prompt that feels most comfortable. No need to proceed in order. No need to address them all. The prompts are simply to offer ideas when you want to write but seem blocked.

But if you're honest with yourself, and honest in your writing; you'll find that by the end of this journal you'll have learned much more about who you are and what you should be doing to get where you need to be. 100 Questions Every Person Should Ask Themselves is set up so that you can go at your own pace; whether that means doing multiple entries in a day or just one a week. Feel free to skip around and choose the question that is perfect for that specific day. And while this journal is aimed specifically at adults, there's nothing inappropriate inside, so it's suitable for young adults as well.

After hand-lettering a book of quotes as a baby shower gift for her friend Joanna Goddard (of the popular lifestyle blog, Cup of Jo), Samantha Hahn was inspired to create an illustrated gift book and companion keepsake journal for other mothers to personalise. Stories for My Child features prompts for capturing the spectacular and quotidian moments of raising a child, along with thoughtfully selected quotes from contemporary and literary sources. Designed with Hahn's ethereal watercolors and chic hand lettering, the journal represents a sophisticated take on the parenting keepsake, and a treasure to pass along when the child grows up. Stories for My Child will have the same trim and a complementary design to Samantha Hahn's quote book (both available Spring '16)--making them a wonderful gift set for Mother's Day or baby showers.

Using the age-old scientifically proven method of writing down your ideas, this journal will help you record several ideas both good and bad thus helping you create great content, market it well and improve yourself as an author. How many times do we find ourselves with a wonderful idea only to find out later that we are not able to remember the exact details that made it look so great in the first place? It is not always possible to find someone nearby who shares our interests and with whom we can discuss our creative marvel so that it gets etched in our memory. Due to the limitations of human memory, ideas worth billions are wasted around the globe almost every day. But the question is do we really need to depend on others and wait for them to give us their time when all we want is some way to make sure that the idea engraves itself in our memory forever? We think not. And this is the exact reason why we have designed this 'Journal For Authors'. This journal as a self-help workbook is aimed to bridge that gap of communication and make you capable of being in control of your ideas, thoughts, and emotions. By making you write answers to strategically placed questions (as one confides into their diary or notebook), it will not only make you critically analyze your idea closely but also help you become a better author by making you look at the marketing aspect of it. This is a 112-page journal that is capable of recording a hundred different creative ideas i.e. a hundred new memories for you to record forever and look back at them whenever you want. Sure, you can do this through a digital medium by using a computer or your mobile but the personal touch that you would be giving to this journal through your own handwriting, sketching your characters or book cover and/or sticking your photographs is impossible to recreate electronically. P.S.: This journal is a part of 'Your Journal For Series' which has journals on various other themes and topics. You will definitely find something you are passionate about or can relate to in our never-ending series.

China's Communist Party seized power in 1949 after a long guerrilla insurgency followed by full-scale war, but the revolution was just beginning. Andrew Walder narrates the rise and fall of the Maoist state from 1949 to 1976—an epoch of startling accomplishments and disastrous failures, steered by many forces but dominated above all by Mao Zedong. Want to ignite your creativity, boost your gratitude, and skyrocket your happiness in ten minutes a day? This creative and motivational book invites you along as I discovered the Happy Journal method. And it doubles as a guide so you can start your own happy journal. A happy journal's premise is you drawing images to describe what brings you joy, so you end up illustrating your life. And I can guarantee when you look back on those sketches a year or ten years from now, you will feel happiness fill your heart. Learn how to:- Notice the little things that make up your beautiful life- Combat negative mindsets that will kill your happy journal before it starts- Start your own happy journal with a couple of supplies- Pass on the gift of a happy journal to your children and friends Get motivated by this guide, and you will see your happiness, joy, and gratitude multiply.

English for Management Studies in Higher Education Studies The Garnet Education English for Specific Academic Purposes series won the Duke of Edinburgh English Speaking Union English Language Book Award in 2009. English for Management Studies is a skills-based course designed specifically for students of management studies who are about to enter English-medium tertiary level studies. It provides carefully graded practice and progressions in the key academic skills that all students need, such as listening to lectures and speaking in seminars. It also equips students with the specialist management language they need to participate successfully within a management faculty. Extensive listening exercises come from management lectures, and all reading texts are taken from the same field of study. There is also a focus throughout on the key management vocabulary that students will need. Listening: how to understand and take effective notes on extended lectures, including how to follow the argument and identify the speaker's point of view. Speaking: how to participate effectively in a variety of realistic situations, from seminars to presentations, including how to develop an argument and use stance markers. Reading: how to understand a wide range of texts, from academic textbooks to Internet articles, including how to analyze complex sentences and identify such things as the writer's stance. Writing: how to produce coherent and well-structured assignments, including such skills as paraphrasing and the use of the appropriate academic phrases. Vocabulary: a wide range of activities to develop students' knowledge and use of key vocabulary, both in the field of management and of academic study in general. Vocabulary and Skills banks: a reference source to provide students with revision of the key words and phrases and skills presented in each unit. Full transcripts of all listening exercises. The Garnet English for Specific Academic Purposes series covers a range of academic subjects. All titles present the same skills and vocabulary points. Teachers can therefore deal with a range of ESAP courses at the same time, knowing that each subject title will focus on the same key skills and follow the same structure. Key Features Systematic approach to developing academic skills through relevant content. Focus on receptive skills (reading and listening) to activate productive skills (writing and speaking) in subject area. Eight-page units combine language and academic skills teaching. Vocabulary and academic skills bank in each unit for reference and revision. Audio CDs for further self-study or homework. Ideal coursework for EAP teachers. "Spurious Correlations ... is the most fun you'll ever have with graphs."--Bustle Military intelligence analyst and Harvard Law student Tyler Vigen illustrates the golden rule that "correlation does not equal causation" through hilarious graphs inspired by his viral website. Is there a correlation between Nic Cage films and swimming pool accidents? What about beef consumption and people getting struck by lightning? Absolutely not. But that hasn't stopped millions of people from going to tylervigen.com and asking, "Wait, what?" Vigen has designed software that scours enormous data sets to find unlikely statistical correlations. He began pulling the funniest ones for his website and has since gained millions of views, hundreds of thousands of likes, and tons of media coverage. Subversive and clever, Spurious Correlations is geek humor at its finest, nailing our obsession with data and conspiracy theory.
