Mike Covell Investigates The East Yorkshire UFO Files pulls together resources from Mike's vast UFO archive, including historical newspaper clippings and official files on alleged sightings, landings, crop circles, and more. The book features an A-Z of East Yorkshire UFO stories, and contains a re-evaluation of the 1909 and 1913 "Scare-ship" stories in the region, plus an in-depth look at the Beverley Member of Parliament that asked UFO questions in the House of Commons. The book also looks at mass sightings and numerous East Yorkshire UFO Flaps throughout the years, and features new eyewitness reports, and a re-examination of classic cases in the region. The book is compiled using hundreds of resources, including files held in the archives at Hull and East Riding, plus files from the Ministry of Defence UFO files, now held at the National Archives! The book is fully referenced, features an extensive bibliography, acknowledgements, and a startling conclusion showing where the historically active areas around East Yorkshire are according to the official files.

Raised with limited peer interaction, Ernestine St Bennett has difficulty interpreting social cues. At twenty-five she's become a loner; a shy nerd immersed in her scientific studies, whose best friend is her pet fish, Waldo. Then Ernestine meets Simon Prime, who's obviously a nerd, too! Sympathizing with his social dysfunction, Ernie decides to help poor Simon increase his self-esteem and thus enhance his social standing. Using principles learned in her fish studies, she'll simply turn Simon from meek to macho. What Ernestine doesn't know (but Waldo suspects) is that Simon Prime is really ex-cop, private investigator Sam Pierce in disguise. A man who definitely doesn't need his masculinity enhanced!

Way's first novel was launched to amazing reviews. Her second novel is a story of love, possession and identity, and is as compelling and addictive as her first.

Lisa is a smart, long-legged beauty who has found the man of her dreams in successful and handsome Michael. Lisa rediscovers her long-buried dream of a career in radio and becomes an overnight radio personality in the coveted Boston market. Michael proposes to Lisa, and their life is perfect. Or is it? Lisa's shock-jock radio co-host is jealous of Lisa's success and sets out to teach her a lesson - on the air. The fallout costs her the job and the man she loves. As a result, Lisa and Michael learn tough lessons about their own pride and stubbornness as they struggle to reclaim their love.

Mind Map Mind maps are a powerful tool for: Brainstorming Planning Thinking on paper. They also work well for presentations. You begin with a main idea in the center. It could be: "Birthday Party" "Product Launch" "Love Poem." From there, you add sub-ideas in the ovals and then break those down further into smaller details. The person mindmapping may draw additional branches and spaces on if they want to keep exploring further.

Today there are many people among the nations of the world who are drawn to the Jewish people and desire the sweetness of the Torah and its teachings. It has been difficult for non-Jewish people to find such teachings -- until now. This ground-breaking book offers a collection of essays on the weekly Torah portions and the holidays from twelve leading rabbis of Israel, written specifically to address the interests of a Christian audience. This is the world's first book of Torah written by Orthodox rabbis especially (but not exclusively) with pro-Israel Christians in mind! These Orthodox rabbis are enabling the fulfillment of the words of Zechariah 8:23: In those days it will happen that ten men, of all the [different] languages of the nations, will take hold, they will take hold of the corner of the garment of a Jewish man, saying, Let us go with you, for we have heard that God is with you!

The Fifth Edition of INQUIRY INTO PHYSICS maintains the perfect balance of quantitative and conceptual content by carefully incorporating problem solving into a discernible conceptual framework. The text integrates simple mathematics so students can see the practicality of physics and have a means of testing scientific validity. Throughout the text, Ostdiek and Bord emphasize the relevance of physics in our daily lives. This text is committed to a concept- and inquiry-based style of learning, as evidenced in the Explore It Yourself boxes, concept-based flow-charts in the chapter openers, and Learning Checks. Students will also find applied examples throughout the text, such as metal detectors, Fresnel lenses, kaleidoscopes, and smoke detectors. The text also periodically reviews the historical development of physics, which is particularly relevant as context for non-science majors.

An ancient prophecy tells a tale of one who comes from the realm of the greatest enemy the Millenia race has ever faced. Forgotten by most, a small band of those of the past are rising up from the planet of the Millenia living dead to return to the homeworld and fulfill the prophecy. And while Tom Holman struggles to adjust to his new life as the soul of the machine that houses his consciousness, the Orion move to destroy him along with the distant Millenia planet once and for all. Darrian struggles to make Tom know what she believes to be true; that the prophecy is not only worth fighting for, it is worth dying for.

FBI Special Agent Serena Jones arrives on Martha's Vineyard with her family, ready for a little bit of R&R and a whole lot of reminiscing as they celebrate the engagement of an old family friend. But crime doesn't take a vacation, and she's soon entangled in an investigation of a suspicious death tied to an antiquities smuggling ring. When her investigation propels her into danger, Serena must stay the course and solve this case before anyone else dies. But just how is she supposed to do that when the two men in her life arrive on the scene, bringing with them plenty of romantic complications--and even a secret or two? Award-winning author Sandra Orchard keeps readers guessing with this fast-paced mystery laced with romance.

Today our multi-cultural society forces Christians to be aware of those with other, equally strong religious convictions. In this challenging and popular book, Martin Goldsmith answers all the hard questions facing Christians in this area, drawing on both biblical material and his own expertise as someone with wide cross-cultural experience. A brief explanation of other religions' concept of God, revelation and salvation is included, and the question of whether it is right to evangelise those of other faiths is tackled, along with a look at practical methods that can be used.

Meet Joe Rahim. He's a tall, good-looking young man living the good life in the City of Toronto, Ontario. Born of a Somali immigrant father and a French-Canadian mother, Joe is the son of two worlds, but fits in neither one. Everyone's favorite underachiever is having a hell of a time at Ryerson University's School of Law. Hyper-competitive academia seriously sucks sometimes. To keep himself amused, Joe drives his boss Wendy crazy at Starbucks, and has a dalliance with tall, gorgeous and curvy, big-booty Haitian student Jacqueline Valmont. The feisty dame is totally his type. Joe Rahim also enjoys a manly good time with Jamaican hunk Samuel Winston. Nothing wrong with that. Sexual fluidity is a beautiful thing. Monosexual life is boring. Things get complicated when Joe, everyone's favorite hedonist, meets the mysterious Bucur, a powerful magical being from Pre-Islamic Somali Folklore. According to Bucur, Joe is descended from the Ayaanle, powerful beings who were the intermediaries between Man and Waaq the ancient Cushitic Sky God. As it turns out, Joe is one of the last remaining Demigods, and a powerful evil force is Hell bent on destroying him. In order to survive, Joe Rahim must overcome his strong leanings towards apathy, sexual addiction, hedonism and self-destruction, and learn to protect those around him.

Mabble asks the defining question, Are you a parent raising a high achiever? If your answer is yes, this book is for you. Mabble offers insights into what to look out for in a child. There are traits, strengths, positive qualities, and "quirkiness" that can often be overlooked, undervalued, unappreciated and misunderstood whilst parenting in a busy modern world. This can sometimes lead to the child being mislabelled. The high-achiever child demands so much more from the world around them and from themselves. Parental support, guidance and a strong mindset are key elements for the gift to transition from its potential state. Mabble teaches on how to grow and develop as the nurturer. Mabble takes her reader through her own journey, from discovering she had high-achievers and draws key learning points from her own upbringing, sharing intimate stories in a humorous and heartfelt manner. She communicates the indispensable principles a parent must inaugurate and impart to their child so they achieve their own self-identity and confidence. Mabble is now on the other side, her children are confidently developing their athletic talents. This book remains valid and applicable to all other gifts and empowers any parent in pursuit of raising a confident child who is unapologetic about their strengths and talents.

Mom?" "Yes, Love?" "Where is the water?" Little Fish asked her mom the same question every morning and every morning she got the same answer. "Practice being still and it will come to you." But Little Fish was tired of being still, so she decided to go out on her own and find the water. Will the grumpy old octopus help her find it? Or perhaps a school of very busy herring will show her the way. Join Little Fish on the adventure of a lifetime as she searches for the answer to her big question - where is the water? This is an inspiring story with charming illustrations for people of all ages who are brave enough to search for the truth.

Mué en poète par l'échec de sa prose, semble-t-il, Melville, après neuf ans de silence, chante la guerre civile qu'il vient de vivre. "Les aspects que la lutte revêt dans la mémoire, écrit-il, sont aussi divers que les humeurs de la méditation involontaire... Je n'ai fait, dirait-on, que placer une harpe à la fenêtre et noter les airs contrastés que les vents capricieux jouaient sur les cordes". Conscient de la diversité comme de l'allure dialectique de son épée, il la sait aussi quasi théologique. Pour lui, il s'est produit "une nouvelle chute de l'Homme", suivie, "dans le silence du Ciel", d'un conflit entre les Anges de ténèbres et les Anges de lumière. Mais que savons-nous des voies de Dieu et des voies de l'Adversaire ? Et, au niveau du choix individuel, le "devoir" qui nous appelle au sacrifice ne risque-t-il pas d'être "le masque de Caïn" ?

This lined hardback notebook features a ribbon marker and 2 tabbed sections marked 'To do list' and 'Shopping list' to help keep you organized. The cover is die-cut in iconic Lulu Guinness lip shape design. "From Karaoke to the Platters" is the inspirational tale of how Paul B Allen III went from singing in karaoke establishments, to become the lead singer of one of the greatest vocal groups of all time, The Platters (Only You; Smoke Gets In Your Eyes; The Great Pretender, etc.). Paul was not allowed entry into his elementary school chorus because of his "tin ear," so the trip from 'reject' to lead vocalist was an incredible journey. Paul shares that journey, as well as all the things he did, step by step, that led him to performing at venues like the world-famous Kennedy Center, backed by the National Symphony Orchestra, and his singing for the rich and famous all around the world, including performing for the Royal Family in London, Prince Albert in Monaco, and being invited to the White House to perform for the President of the United States of America. This book is made up of two parts that are linked together by Paul's real-life experiences in the music industry, as an internationally published songwriter and as the lead vocalist of The Platters. Part One tells step by step how he did it (and how you can too), and Part Two tells what happened once he "arrived." It is a truly fascinating account that can only be told by someone who has lived the life. And as you read, you'll feel like you're living it right alongside of him.
