In 1876, France decided to give the United States a very big and very special present--the Statue of Liberty. The gift was to commemorate the 100th birthday of the United States, and just packing it was no small feat--350 pieces in 214 crates shipped across the ocean. The story of how the 111-foot-tall lady took her place in the New York Harbor will fascinate young readers.

New editions of old favorites Meet Harry Kitten and Tucker Mouse. No one would ever dream that a cat and mouse could become friends, but that doesn't stop Harry and Tucker. All they have is each other to depend on. Together they begin an exciting adventure throughout New York, searching for a home they can call their own. But the two friends run into some troublesome times in their journey around town. Is all hope lost? Where will they turn to next? Join Chester Cricket and his friends in this classic tale from George Selden.

'Macmillan English Explorers' have been written specifically for young learners of English. They bring first-language teaching methods to reading lessons in international classrooms. There are eight levels, from beginning readers to confident readers.

A collection of stories brings to the life the traditions of the library, from a boy who finds solace against the impending death of his grandmother to a young Chinese woman who uses books to escape from her life.

Practice exercises for the Language Book activities, intended for homework or quiet class time. Practice Book pages should be done when the corresponding page in the Language Book has been finished. If time allows teachers may like to go through some or all of the exercises orally before children work independently.

The next generation in Business English The Business is a stimulating course that provides an inclusive package for any student of business English, though particularly suited to those at college or university. The Business is supported by an extensive bank of online resources, including progress tests based on BEC style questions. A free, monthly sign-up service supplements the course with a podcast, featuring authentic listening extracts and a PowerPoint presentation based on the Students

Discusses accountability and the impact of decision-making, includes information on historical and contemporary role models, and presents practical advice for young people.
